Raw silk prices in the Yokohama market suffered a severe reaction yesterday, quotations at the close of trading showing a drop of 50 yen from Saturday's level. As a consequence prices in the local market also declined sharply, the net drop amounting to from 20 to 25 cents a pound. The slump in quotations came as a result of the refusal of buyers to pay high prices. During the last several weeks prices have risen continuously until they reached the level of prices in 1920. The advances had been stubbornly resisted by buyers, who declared that the rises were not justified. On the other hand, sellers contended that a scarcity of popular grades would force quotations higher. They regarded yesterday's decline as a temporary reaction.

Weather Spurs Fall Trade.

Cooler temperatures have accelerated retail distribution of apparel, blankets, dress goods, sheetings and other merchandise. The amount of deferred retail buying this fall has been unusually large, and consequently retail merchants were not well equipped to fill the demand stimulated by the weather. Jobbers are receiving a steady stream of small orders calling for immediate delivery.

Bertha Collars in Demand.

In the women's neckwear trade bertha collars are selling well. Retailers, as a rale, did not anticipate such a strong demand for this description and left a good part of their usual seasonal requirements unbought. As a result both manufacturers and wholesalers are receiving daily a large batch of rush orders from merchants. Wide collars are popular, the one most in demand being that which reaches to the waist. The Peter Pan, panel and bateau collars also are well bought. Peter Pan collars with a V front are particularly popular, while bateau goods, especially those designed to fit almost any neckline, are selling well. In the women's neckwear trade bertha

New Millinery Season.

The midwinter season will be formally opened in the local wholesale millinery market next Monday, according to the Eastern Millinery Association. Retailers will hold their midwinter opening on a date soon to be announced by the Retail Millinery Association of America.

Outline Trade Ethics Plan.

For the purpose of setting up in the trade a means of developing fair deal-ing and the establishment of good will representatives of both retailers and representatives of both retailers and manufacturers yesterday met in the offices of the National Retail Dry Goods Association. A. Lincoln Filene of William Filene's Sons Company of Boston presided at the meeting, at which each representative was asked to present highers. The plans were first made by Jesse Isidor Straus, president of the National Retail Dry Goods Association at the Merchandise Fair, recently held here.

New York Herald Bureau. | London, Oct. 16. | WO days out of New York the passengers abourd the United States liner America, which arrived yesterday at Plymouth, found the ship had gone dry by a wirelessed order. After the liquor stores had been sealed up crew and passengers held a simple but af-fecting ceremony committing the effigy of John Barleycorn to the eligy of John Barieycorn to the deep. All classes of passengers joined in the mourning, and many wore black brassards. In slowly solemn gait they paraded the deck, and an oration was made over the "body" extolling the late lamented for his great services to humanity and exhorting those who knew him to keep his memory green. The Dead March from "Saul" sounded over the Atlantic as John Barleycorn was heaved over the side.
